Who Shall Have Williams's Old Precinct the Sung That Delays the Deal-McLaughlin Likely to Go There and Reilly to Come to the City Hall-Other Important Changes Young Blood to Go to the Front.

The Police Commissioners are considering the best plan for a general transfer of Captains, so as to secure the greatest efficiency. They recognize the fact that some of the Captains do not show that activity and skill which should characterize the modern police officer, and where to place them is the

When the sixty-year retirement law was put in force, and two Inspectors were chosen and ten new Captains were made, the latter were told that their assignments were temporary, and that soon they would be transferred to precincts where active work, fresh blood and brains were required. The retirement of and brains were required. The retirement of Captain Robbins, one month before his sixtieth birthday, paved the way for a general reassignment of Captains, and it was understood that the deal would be made on Tuesday.

It was discussed at the meeting of the Board, but at once a snag was struck in the question who should be the successor to Capt. Tom Reilly in the Nineteenth precinct, or Thirtieth street station. Capt. Reilly is weary of "being pounded by the papers," he says, and longs for pastures new, where he may pursue the even tenor of his way. He was happy and contented at the City Hall, and would be pleased to go back there.

wav. He was happy and contented at the City Hall, and would be pleased to go back there.

The Commissioners are divided in opinion on a successor to Reilly, some thinking that Capt. Allaire's experience and success in the turbulent Eleventh fits him for the exacting work of the Nineteenth. Others believe that young blood and detective genius are needed and are pressing Capt. McLaughlin, now in Old slip, who was graduated from Inspector Byrnes's college of detective science, and he will probably be the winner.

Capt. Allaire has desired for a long time to be relieved from the exacting duties of the Eleventh. He is drill master of the force, and feels that he should have easier routine work. He will go to the First Precinct to succeed McLaughlin in all probability.

Capt. Maskim has purchased a home in upper New York and desires to have a command near by, and will succeed Capt. Hooker in the Harlem Precinct, while Capt. Westervelt will go to the Mulberry street station to succeed Meakim. Hooker is slated for the Tremont, or Thirty-fourth Precinct, and Cortright is to return to his old, Thirty-second, or West One Hundred and Fifty-second street Precinet.

Capt. Grant is booked for the East Thirty-fifth street Precinct—the Twenty-first, Ryan to be transferred to Madison street, and Brooks to go to West One Hundredth street, to succeed Murphy slated for Morrisania. Capt. Cassidy is regarded as a prudent and magacious officer, and the slate-makers say that he will come downtown to Delancey street, Slevin assuming control of the Eldridge street station, now commanded by Allaire.

The other Captains, it is given out, will remain in their present precincts, it not being

JOSTLING MISERIES.

Two Deaths From Heart Disease Close Together Confounded in Rose Street.

It was declared to-day that heart disease was the cause of the death of Martin Elminger, who had kept a small restaurant and ger, who had kept a small restaurant and lived at 53 Rose street, for the last fourteen years. Yesterday afternoon he sat down in Michael Murphy's saloon, at 149 Leonard street, for a nap and never woke again.

An incident illustrative of the jostling nearness of miseries of this sort in this big fown, and the general carelessness in regard to such events occurred to The World reporter who was looking the matter up.

No one in the place where Elminger died knew him. This morning the people who were present when the body was taken away by the police told the reporter that the man lived at 22 Rose street.

There the reporter was directed to 28 Rose

There the reporter was directed to 28 Rose street, and at that number he found that Ben-jamin Chappel, an old printer at De Vinne's, had fallen down a flight of four steps at the corner of Rose and Duane streets Sunday night and died a few hours after of heart dis-case. Chappel had no friends, his only daughter being married and her address un-known. Chappel's body is at the Morgue.

Another Writ Asked for Mundy. An application was made to Judge Lawrence in e Court, Chambers, to-day for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Nathan Barrett Mundy, of Staten Island, who was sent to the Asylum for the Insane at Middletown on the eve of his marriage to a pretty widow and who claims that he is not insane.

The Judge did not hesitate to say that the New York courts ild about three-fourths of the business of the State, and that the application might have been made in Staten Island. Decision was reserved.

The caged Anarchist finds fault with various things. Red-hot articles for the Frethett are daily expected from him and he has had difficulty in supplying the demand.

Until yoserday he was in a cell on the west side of the prison where the sun shone only about two hoursa day. He told Warden Walsh he wanted to do much more writing than was possible under these circumstances, so he was given a light cell on the upper tier. Still Most was not content. For the production of such article as readers of the Freihelt are accustomed to expect from Most a liberal supply of sausages and beer is indispensable. Except under tyrannous restraint the Anarchist chief never attempted to write without these important accessories.

ins a very depressing effect on the street and gives the bears the advantage.

The dealings this morning represented nothing but a guerilla warfare between the "eighth chasers," as the traders who change their position with every rumor are called. Manhattan tumbled 2 points, to 25%, on the talk about the underground railroad scheme, and Quicksilver and Wheeling and Lake Erie dropped about as much, but otherwise the fluctuations were 1 percent, or less, The list was raided at frequent intervals, but always railled when the shorts attempted to cover. Reading was the most active stock. Sheppard sold $5,000 and Enos 3,000. Brayton Jones and Tunis each bought 2,000 and Von Hoffman 1,000, The Wormsers also bought and this gave rise to a story that the old bull pool was accumulating stock. Schepp was a buyer of Western Union.

The reports about fresh railroad troubles at the West were used against the market. The Atchison is said to be the aggressor and lively times in the Southwest are anticipated. These reports, however, have to be taken with allowance, as they emanate from Chicago, where the bearish feeling on the market is most pronounced.

Around midday Western Union started up to 78, and this was followed by some improvement all along the line.

His views on the question of divorce have attracted more than ordinary attention. Mr. Wesley said to-day to a Wonld reporter that he entertained the views of the Catholic Church on the subject of divorce.

He thought the divorce laws of Massachusetts were a farce, and said the increase in the number of divorces for frivolous reasons should attract the attention of all interested in the prosperity of the State. Under the law at present a woman may leave her husband, refuse to receive support from him for a number of years and then procure a divorce on the ground of desertion and non-support.
